For complete eligibility requirements, see Sections 8-10.

Throughout this form, all references to "the Department" mean the U.S. Department of Education.

Before completing Sections 2-4, carefully read the entire form. Be sure to provide all requested information. Enter your name and Social Security Number at the top of page 2. Type or print using dark ink. Show dates as mm-dd-yyyy (for example, show "January 31, 2014" as "01-31-2014").

The chief administrative officer of the school or educational service agency where you performed your qualifying teaching service must complete Section 5.

If you taught at more than one school or for more than one educational service agency during the same academic year, the chief administrative officer from one of the schools or educational service agencies may complete Section 5. However, all of the schools and/or educational service agencies must be listed. If you taught at different schools or for different educational service agencies during different academic years, the chief administrative officers from all of the schools or educational service agencies must certify your eligibility. If you need more than one chief administrative officer's certification, the additional certifications, containing the information in Section 5, may be provided on a separate piece of paper and submitted with your completed form.

Return the completed form to the address shown in Section 6. If you are applying for forgiveness of loans that are held by different loan holders, you must submit a separate form to each loan holder.

SECTION 8: DEFINITIONS

- A teacher is a person who provides direct classroom teaching or classroom-type teaching in a non-classroom setting, including special education teachers (see below). NOTE: School librarians, guidance counselors, and other administrative staff are not considered teachers for the purposes of this loan forgiveness program.
- Special education means specially designed instruction, at no cost to parents, to meet the unique needs of a child with a disability (see below), including instruction conducted in the classroom, in the home, in hospitals and institutions, and in other settings; and instruction in physical education (see below).
 - A child with a disability is a child who needs special education and related services because the child has an intellectual disability, a hearing impairment (including deafness), a speech or language impairment, a visual impairment (including blindness), a serious emotional disturbance, an orthopedic impairment, autism, a traumatic brain injury, another health impairment, or a specific learning disability. For a child age 3 through 9, the term "a child with a disability" may, at the discretion of the state and the local educational agency, include a child who needs special education and related services because the child is experiencing developmental delays, as defined by the state and as measured by appropriate diagnostic instruments and procedures, in one or more of the following areas: physical development, cognitive development, communication development, social or emotional development, or adaptive development.

- Physical education means the development of physical and motor fitness, fundamental motor skills and patterns, and skills in aquatics, dance, and individual and group games and sports (including intramural and lifetime sports), and includes special physical education, adapted physical education, movement education, and motor development.

 - Two complete and consecutive half years at different schools or for different educational service agencies, or
 - Two complete and consecutive half years from different school years at either the same school or for the same educational service agency or at different schools or for different educational service agencies.Half years do not include summer sessions. Two half years generally fall within a 12-month period. For schools or educational service agencies that have a year-round program of instruction, a minimum of nine months is considered an academic year.
- Full time means the standard used by a state in defining full-time employment as a teacher. If you teach in more than one school or educational service agency, full time is based on the combination of all of your qualifying employment.

This means that if you had an outstanding balance on one or more Direct Loan or FFEL program loans on October 1, 1998, or on any Direct Loan or FFEL program loans that you obtained while you had an outstanding balance on a Direct Loan or FFEL program loan made on or before October 1, 1998, you may qualify for loan forgiveness if you later paid all of those loans in full so that you had no outstanding balance on any Direct Loan or FFEL program loan at the time you obtained a new Direct Loan or FFEL program loan after October 1, 1998.
- You are not eligible to receive forgiveness on a defaulted loan unless you have first made satisfactory repayment arrangements with the holder of the defaulted loan.
- Any loan for which you are seeking forgiveness must have been made before the end of your five consecutive, complete academic years of qualifying teaching service.
- You must not have received benefits through the AmeriCorps Program under Subtitle D of Title I of the National and Community Service Act of 1990 or loan forgiveness under the Direct Loan Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program for the same teaching service for which you are seeking forgiveness on your Direct Loan and/or FFEL program loans.

 - Is listed in the Annual Directory of Designated Low-Income Schools for Teacher Cancellation Benefits (available online at www.tcli.ed.gov). If this directory is not available before May 1 of any year, the previous year's directory may be used.

If your school or educational service agency meets the above requirements for at least one year of your teaching service, but does not meet these requirements during subsequent years, your subsequent years of teaching at the school or educational service agency may be counted toward the required five years of teaching.

NOTE: All elementary and secondary schools operated by the Bureau of Indian Education (BIE) or operated on Indian reservations by Indian tribal groups under contract with the BIE qualify as schools serving low-income students.

 - Your employer considers you to have fulfilled your contract requirements for the academic year for the purposes of salary increases, tenure, and retirement; and
 - You were unable to complete the academic year because:
 - You returned to postsecondary education, on at least a half-time basis, in an area of study directly related to the performance of the teaching service described above; or

NOTE: Absence due to a period of postsecondary education, a condition covered under the FMLA, or active duty service, including the time needed for you to resume teaching no later than the beginning of the next regularly scheduled academic year, is not considered a break in the required five consecutive, complete academic years.

- You may qualify for forgiveness based on qualifying teaching service at any combination of eligible elementary schools, secondary schools, or educational service agencies. However:
 - Teaching at an eligible elementary or secondary school may be counted only if at least one of the five years of teaching was after the 1997–1998 academic year.
 - Teaching for an eligible educational service agency may be counted only if the consecutive five-year period includes qualifying service for an eligible educational service agency performed after the 2007–2008 academic year.
- If your five consecutive, complete years of qualifying teaching service began before October 30, 2004:
 - You may receive up to $5,000 in loan forgiveness if you were:
 - A full-time teacher for elementary school students and you demonstrated knowledge and teaching skills in reading, writing, mathematics, and other areas of the elementary school curriculum; or
 - A full-time teacher for secondary school students and you taught in a subject area that was relevant to your academic major.
 - You may receive up to $17,500 in loan forgiveness if you were:
 - A highly qualified full-time teacher of mathematics or science to secondary school students; or
 - A highly qualified full-time special education teacher whose primary responsibility was to provide special education to children with disabilities, and you taught children with disabilities that corresponded to your area of special education training and have demonstrated knowledge and teaching skills in the content areas of the curriculum that you taught.
- If your five consecutive, complete years of qualifying teaching service began on or after October 30, 2004:
 - You may receive up to $5,000 in loan forgiveness if you were a highly qualified full-time teacher for elementary or secondary school students.
 - You may receive up to $17,500 in loan forgiveness if you were:
 - A highly qualified full-time teacher of mathematics or science to secondary school students; or
 - A highly qualified full-time special education teacher whose primary responsibility was to provide special education to children with disabilities, and you taught children with disabilities that corresponded to your area of special education training and have demonstrated knowledge and teaching skills in the content areas of the curriculum that you taught.
- You are not eligible for forgiveness of more than a combined total of $17,500 of principal and interest of your Direct Loan and/or FFEL program loans. You must repay any loan balance that remains after forgiveness has been granted.
- Unless you instruct your loan holder otherwise, the forgiveness amount will be applied to your loans in the following order: (1) Direct Unsubsidized Loans or unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans, (2) Direct Subsidized Loans or subsidized Federal Stafford Loans, and (3) Direct Unsubsidized Consolidation Loans, Direct Subsidized Consolidation Loans, or Federal Consolidation Loans.
 - If you are determined to be eligible for loan forgiveness under this program, your loan holder will not refund any payments that you made or that were made on your behalf before the determination of eligibility.
 - If you receive loan forgiveness based on any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements that you make on this form or on any accompanying documents, you may be required to repay the amount forgiven and you may be subject to civil and criminal penalties under applicable federal law.
